SONS OF CANADA TRIM SIDNEY INTERMEDIATES

Last Friday evening the local Intermediate Lacrosse team suffered defeat at the hands of the Sons of Canada when they lost a fast game on the Royal Athletic Park grounds in the city.

According to spectators it was one of the fastest games of the season, with fast combination and brilliant displays of stickhandling.

The Sons started right in with determination and led at the end of the first spasm by a score of 3-1. The local boys seemed to lack life around the goal and many passes were missed that might have made a different tale to tell had connections been made.

Oliver, of the Sons, scored in less than 20 seconds, at the start, taking the ball from the face-off and boring right through the defence and giving Crossley the slip and tossing the pill into the net. Ten minutes later Sidney scored on a fluke when Lionel Crossley made "cannon" off a player into the goal. A minute later Jack Taylor put the Sons in the lead again. Chapman scored just before the whistle, making a lead of two for the Sons.

The second period saw some fast play on both sides and many shots on goal, but the guardians of the nets saw to it that nothing got by.

In the third period John Taylor scored twice in three minutes and practically put the game away in cold storage for the Sons of Canada.

The fourth spasm saw Bryant and McPhee each score before Sidney came to life sufficiently to connect for a counter, G. Bowcott at last finding the net with a fine shot from close in.

Joe Hancock refereed in a satisfactory manner.

The teams lined up as follows:—
Sons of Canada—Jones, Jack Taylor, Oliver, Brown, Smith, Bryant, Cann, Gilson and McPhee.

Sidney—J. Crossley, Hill, Gilman, H. Nunn, G. Bowcott, A. Nunn, Reid, Andersen, Clanton, B. Bowcott, L. Crossley, Ward and David.

VISITORS AT FARM-HOUSE INN

GALIANO, Aug. 13.—A delightful time is being spent by many visitors at the Farm-House Inn. Moonlight bathing and picnics are fully appreciated these hot nights after a few sets of tennis on the perfect grass court which is one of the attractions of the inn. A delightful fancy dress dance, organized by Miss Morton and Miss Enola Moss, was enjoyed by all—adding yet another charm to a country holiday where health and happiness beat time to the turn of the separator and crew of the early rooster at early dawn, without which no holiday can be complete.

PICNIC AT CHALET

DEEP COVE, Aug. 13.—The Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, of Victoria, held a very enjoyable picnic at the Chalet grounds on Sunday. The party, under the supervision of Mr. Brooks, numbered about 75, and were conveyed to Deep Cove by the C. & C. Taxi Service. After lunch the time was devoted entirely to swimming and diving stunts.

After an enjoyable day the party returned home at 8 o'clock.

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT

Geo. W. Dean, Observer.

GANGES, Aug. 13.—Meteorological report for July:—

Rainfall, total, 24 inches.

Greatest rainfall, on 13th, .18 inches.

Mean temperature, 64.7°.

Highest temperature during the month, 82° on the 27th.

Lowest temperature during the month, 47° on the 11th.

Many bright days—some days misty.

UNITED CHURCH PICNIC HELD AT OTTER BAY

PENDER ISLAND, Aug. 13.—A most enjoyable gathering took place on Friday last at Simpson's Beach, Otter Bay, when members of the United Church at Ganges came over by launch to picnic and get acquainted with members of the local congregation. The visiting party, headed by the Rev. Geo. W. Dean and Mrs. Dean, arrived at noon, and after they had received a hearty welcome, all sat down to enjoy the fruits of an abundant board. After lunch everyone listened intently to the excellent report of the recent meetings in Toronto given by Mr. R. S. W. Corbett, who, with Mrs. Corbett, has just returned from the East. In conclusion he formally welcomed the guests as fellow-workers—brothers and sisters—in the Great Task. Mr. Dean replied in a very pleasing and graceful manner, while Mrs. Fry and Mrs. Dean spoke briefly on behalf of the women's organizations, a verse of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," bringing the formal proceedings to a close. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in chatting merrily on the beach, or, by some, in enjoying the bathing facilities. Tea was served at 4.30 p.m. and the guests departed at 5 o'clock amid cheers and requests from both parties that it be made an annual event.

The party from Ganges included Rev. G. W. Dean, Mrs. Dean and Miss Dean; Mrs. J. Mouat, Mrs. Wm. Mouat and children, Mrs. W. Norton and child, Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Parsons and family; Mrs. Gavin Mouat, Mrs. Toynbee and child, the Misses Fullerton and Deaville, and others.

MONTHLY GUILD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harrison, "The Orchards." There was a good attendance. The president, Mrs. White, was in the chair and opened the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Hughes read the treasurer's report, after which several matters of business were discussed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. White.

Mrs. Harrison, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Mitchell, served tea.

NOVEL BEACH PARTY

On Friday evening last a joyous beach party under the name of "Winnie's Pow-Wow" took place near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Goddard. It proved itself a great success both financially and to the satisfaction of all those present, who numbered 43 in all.

The funds raised by this novel means will be devoted to the work of the St. Andrew's and Holy Trinity Girls' Auxiliaries.

During the evening contests and races were indulged in and a picnic supper was provided around the bonfire.

The surprise box which Miss Iris Goddard used as her means of raising funds was drawn for and Mrs. H. J. McIntyre was the holder of the lucky ticket, No. 8, and secured the surprise packet, which contained many useful and interesting articles.

The Jolly evening was brought to a close with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and other old favorites.

Miss Fatt wishes to thank all those who contributed and helped to make the evening such a success.

FOREST FIRES

Numerous homes were destroyed and settlers have had to flee for their lives in many districts on the island owing to forest fires, which have been raging during the last couple of weeks.

Just how these fires start is not so easy to tell, but carelessness on the part of campers or parties out for the vacation jaunt are no doubt to blame to a certain extent. One cannot be too careful with fire in a country that is so dry that a stray cigarette or spark from a camp-fire can quite easily set the dead grass on fire.

When you make a fire be sure you take every precaution. Don't throw away your lighted stub of a cigar as same fanned into a blaze by the wind. Save the forest. Put your fires out—absolutely dead out.

THRILLING EXPERIENCES IN 4000 MILE JOURNEY

Commander Maude, of Mayne Island, returns after sailing his small boat, the "Half Moon," over 4,000 miles.

Commander Maude started out early last spring to sail across the ocean to England via the Panama Canal. He was over 100 days at sea, and had many interesting adventures to relate about his trip. At one time he was knocked unconscious when hit on the side of the head by the boom, he lay on the floor for hours not having any recollection of his whereabouts or how long he was there, and when he finally recovered his sight was badly affected and he found it almost impossible to read the compass, so decided he had best turn his course for home, which he did. The return trip was also full of adventure, for the old seaman as he was two weeks trying to get around the entrance to the Straits, having on two different occasions been blown within 50 feet of the shore, and both times had great difficulty in getting off again, as in many places the jagged rocks extended two miles from shore.

Commander Maude carried sufficient supplies with him for the journey in his little boat of only 25 feet in length and travelled alone on the venturesome journey. He is at present in Victoria, but will return to his home on Mayne Island as soon as the engine of his boat is repaired.

It is believed that Commander Maude holds the world's record for making such a long journey in so small a boat. Have you ever heard of anything to beat it?

LADIES' AID

The monthly meeting of the ladies' Aid of the United Church was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ellis. Seventeen members attended and three visitors, Mrs. Draper, Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Speakman.

It was decided to hold the September meeting in Wesley Hall, to which all the ladies interested in the United Church are cordially invited.

After the meeting adjourned a very pleasant social half-hour was spent, solos were rendered by Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Speakman, and a dainty tea served.

LACROSSE TONIGHT

Tonight at the Royal Athletic Park, Victoria, one of the best senior lacrosse games of the season is expected to be played. The game will start sharp at 6 o'clock. A large crowd is expected and many will likely travel from Sidney to witness the struggle.

If the Capitals win tonight they will be crowned senior champions at Victoria and District League, and if Sidney wins it means another game to determine the champions.

Both teams are expected to have their strongest line-ups of the year out, and the game should be a razor for speed and thrills. Sidney will have two of the crack intermediate players in their line-up.

TOMMIE LIDGATE RESCUES LAD

On Friday last little Joe Thomas was taken off his feet by a swell from one of the boats while in bathing at the wharf. Tommie Lidgate, who was also in bathing at the time, went quickly to his rescue and took him to shore. Mrs. Thomas extends her thanks to Tommie for saving Joe from further disaster.

BLAZE AT MILL

On Thursday evening last, about 6.30 o'clock, a fire broke out at the Sidney Mills in some shacks adjoining one of the buildings. No damage was done, however, owing to the prompt response of the fire brigade. Shortly after the fire a whistle blew almost every citizen in the town was on the spot to render assistance, if necessary, but the fire was soon under control and all returned home to finish supper.

A SCOTCH GIFT

"Here, Annie, here's something for your birthday," said an old Scotchman, handing his maid a cheque for five dollars with the signature line blank. "Keep it and on your next birthday I'll sign."

MONTHLY MEETING OF SIDNEY BOARD OF TRADE

EXCELLENT CONCERT GIVEN

A very attractive program was enjoyed by many local people on Friday evening in Berquist Hall, given by Mr. Drury Pryce's concert party of Victoria.

The program consisted of many numbers on violin and piano, vocal duets and solos of a pleasing nature.

Drury Pryce, Victoria's leading violinist, gave a number of entertaining selections and Mrs. Warn, who is also well known in Victoria and district, with her beautiful soprano voice rendered many solos of a highly attractive nature. Miss M. Ida New, the third party in the trio, as well as giving many vocal selections, was accompanist for Mrs. Warn and Mr. Pryce.

At the close of the program the hall was thrown open to dancing, the music being furnished by the "Moonlight Serenaders" orchestra. Supper was served by Mrs. Lidgate and Mrs. Crossley.

This was the last of a series of concerts held during the past week on the Gulf Islands.

ANNUAL PICNIC

GALIANO, Aug. 13.—Capt. Denroache will hold his annual picnic on Saturday, Aug. 15, at one o'clock sharp, at Gossip Island, in aid of the Galiano hall. The program will be as follows:—

Annual swimming and diving competition for school children—prize to be given by Mr. Paul Scoones.

Swimming—Boys under 16 years girls under 16, children under 12; men, open; women.

Diving, men, women, boys, girls and children.

Rowing—boys, girls, men, women.

Men's double.

Women's double (open).

Launch race.

Cafeteria—Tea and ice cream.

CHALET DANCE

DEEP COVE, Aug. 13.—The usual open-air dance took place in the pavilion of the Chalet Hotel on Saturday evening. There was a good attendance, a large crowd coming from Victoria and way points, showing that these dances are still proving very popular.

Heaton's orchestra, from Victoria, supplied excellent music for the dancing, which continued until midnight.

Dainty refreshments were served in the dining-room of the hotel.

CONCERT ENJOYED

GANGES, Aug. 13.—On Wednesday evening last week a concert party from Victoria, touring the Gulf Islands gave a concert to a crowded house that thoroughly appreciated their numbers, especially Mr. Drury Pryce's violin sections. Among his encores was the "Rosary." Mrs. Warn, as soloist and accompanist, was, as usual, excellent. Miss New, of Galiano, contralto, delighted the audience with her solos.

ANNUAL PICNIC

GALIANO, Aug. 13.—The school house was crowded on Thursday when Mr. Drury Pryce, Mrs. Warn and Miss New gave a delightful program to a fully appreciative audience. Mr. Drury Pryce once again delighted all with his playing, whilst Mrs. Warn sang delightfully and Miss New was heard to great advantage, all receiving many encores. A dance followed after the concert, but many left for home having fully enjoyed a delightful time.

IDIOMATIC ENGLISH

A baboon, or native clerk, in India, who proved himself on his mastery of the English tongue and skill in its idiom, sent the following telegram in announcement of his mother's death:

"Regret to announce that hand which rocked the cradle has kicked the bucket."

The regular monthly meeting of the Sidney Board of Trade held last Tuesday was affected in some degree by the summer holiday season, with the result that there was only a small attendance. In the absence of the president, Vice-president J. E. McNeil was in the chair.

SWIMMING GALA

It was decided to hold a swimming gala the last Monday in the month, Aug. 31, under the auspices of the board, at the Ferry Wharf Beach, and the co-operation of all true citizens of North Saanich is sought to make this event a big success. The committee appointed, viz., Messrs. J. J. White, H. J. McIntyre and V. Goddard, are empowered to add other citizens to help in organizing the events. Swimming races, diving, tub races, log races, driving-the-pole, etc., will be amongst some of the features. Miss Audrey Griffin is to be invited to be present.

Three new members have been added to the membership, Mr. S. K. Halsey, Mr. J. Greenwood, Rev. M. Lees.

LIFE BUOY RECEIVED

The wharf committee reported that a life buoy had been secured from the Marine department through the courtesy of Col. A. W. R. Wilby, the Marine agent, the Sidney Trading Co., Ltd., donating the line for same.

BATHING HOUSES USED

The park and beaches committee reported that the bathing houses were in good demand daily.

BACKING FOR PIER

The breakwater or pier committee reported an interview with the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and the assurance of their co-operation.

Correspondence received from Mr. M. C. Ironside, secretary of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, was read, indicating the progress being made with the presentation of the resolutions passed at the recent annual convention.

TO ADVERTISE N.S.

The board decided to make an expenditure during the next month on advertising North Saanich in two of the leading prairie papers, seeking inquiries from those who are thinking of coming to the Coast this year.

The meeting was held in the Wesley Hall and closed sharp on time.

ENJOYABLE CARD PARTY

FULFORD HARBOUR, Aug. 13.—A most enjoyable card party and dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jackson at "Swallowfield Haven" on Thursday, Aug. 6.

The rooms looked very pretty decorated with Chinese lanterns, and the dabbies and sweet peas, which came from Mr. Mollet's well-known gardens, were much admired. Those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. Eaton, Mr. Shaw, Mr. Bill Stewart, Mrs. MacDonald, Mr. Jack Harrison, Mrs. Cressor, Mr. R. Price, Miss Mollie Akerman, Mr. Fred. Morris, Mr. Jimmie Akerman, Mr. H. Price, Mr. Raymond Morris, Misses Gladys and Cree Shaw and others.

HER FIRST BIRTHDAY

A very happy birthday party was given to little Marjorie Louise Gibson by her mother on the occasion of her first birthday. A dainty supper was served, the beautiful cake being the centre of attraction, as it caused much excitement when it was cut and found to contain many surprises, among which was a gold ring, the lucky winner being Jimmie Mason. After supper an enjoyable time was spent in games before the party broke up.

NO TIME LOST HERE

Efficiency in farming was well illustrated this week on the farm of Mr. Geo. MacLean, North Saanich, while one gang hauled grain from the fields, another ran the threshing machine and a third fed the bafes with the straw from the combine thus completing the harvest without delay.

The Broken Road

CHAPTER XXXVI. "The Little Less—"

"Well, no doubt he has the dubs," Linforth found himself saying, as he contemplated the possible husband. And his friend broke in upon his thoughts.

"If you are going to eat any dinner, Linforth, it might be as well to begin; we shall have to go very shortly."

Linforth fell to accordingly. His appetite was not impaired, he was happy to notice, but, on the whole, he wished he had not seen Violet Oliver. This was his last night in London. She might so easily have come tomorrow instead, when he would already have departed from the town. It was a pity.

He did not look towards her table any more, but the moment her party rose he was nevertheless aware of its movement. He was conscious that she passed through the restaurant towards the lobby at no great distance from himself. He was aware, though he did not raise his head, that she was looking at him.

Five minutes afterwards the waiter brought to him a folded piece of paper. He opened it and read:

"Dick, won't you speak to me at all? I am waiting.—Violet."

Linforth looked up at his friend.

"There is some one I must go and speak to," he said. "I won't be five minutes."

He rose from the table and walked out of the restaurant. His heart was beating rather fast, but it was surely curiosity which produced that effect. Curiosity to know whether with her things were—"just not," too. She passed across the hall and up the steps. On the top of the steps she was waiting for him. She had her cloak upon her shoulders, and in the background the gross young man waited for her without interposing—the very image of a docile husband.

"Dick," she said quickly, as she held out her hand to him, "I did so want to talk to you. I have to rush off to a theatre. So I sent in for you. Why wouldn't you speak to me?"

That he should have any reason to avoid her she seemed calmly and completely unconscious. And so unembarrassed was her manner that even with her voice in his ears and her face before him, delicate and pretty as of old, Dick almost believed that never had he spoken of love to her; and never had she answered him.

"You are married?" he asked. Violet nodded her head. She did not, however, introduce her husband. She took no notice of him whatever. She did not mention her new name.

"And you?" she asked. Linforth laughed rather harshly.

"No." Perhaps the harshness of the laugh troubled her. Her forehead puckered. She dropped her eyes from his face.

"But you will," she said in a low voice.

Linforth did not answer and in a moment or two she raised her head again. The trouble had gone from her face. She smiled brightly.

"And the Road?" she asked. She had just remembered it. She had almost an air of triumph in remembering it. All those old memories were so dim. But at the awkward difficult moment, by an inspiration she had remembered the great long-cherished aim of Dick Linforth's life. The Road! Dick wondered whether she remembered too that there had been a time when for a few days she had thought to have a share herself in the making of that Road which was to leave India safe.

"It goes on," he said quietly. "It has passed Kohara. It has passed the fort where Luffe died. But I beg your pardon. Luffe belongs to the past, too, very much to the past—more even than I do."

Violet paid no heed to the sarcasm. She had not heard it. She was thinking of something else. It seemed that she had something to say, but found the utterance difficult. Once or twice she looked up at Dick Linforth, and looked down again and played with the fringe of her cloak. In the background the docile husband moved restlessly.

"There's a question I should like to ask," she said quickly, and then stopped.

Linforth helped her out.

"Perhaps I can guess the question."

"It's about ——" she began, and Linforth nodded his head.

"Shere Ali!" he said. "Yes," replied Violet.

Linforth hesitated, looking at his companion. How much should he tell her? he asked himself. The whole truth? If he did, would it trouble her? He wondered. He had no wish to hurt her. He began warily:

"After the campaign was over in Chiltistan I was sent after him."

"Yes. I heard that before I left India," she replied.

"I hunted him," and it seemed to Linforth that she flinched. "There's no other word, I am afraid. I hunted him—for months, from the borders of Thibet to the borders of Russia. In the end I caught him."

"I heard that, too," she said.

"I came up with him one morning, in a desert of stones. He was with three of his followers. The only three who had been loyal to him. They had camped as best they could under the shelter of a boulder. It was very cold. They had no coverings and little food. The place was as desolate as you could imagine—a wilderness of boulders and stones stretching away to the round of the sky, level as the palm of your hand, with a ragged tree growing up here and there. If we had not come up with them that day, I think they would have died."

He spoke with his eyes upon Violet, ready to modify his words at the first evidence of pain. She gave that evidence as he ended. She drew her cloak closer about her and shivered.

"What did he say?" she asked.

"To me? Nothing. We spoke only formally. All the way back to India we behaved as strangers. It was easier for both of us. I brought him down through Chiltistan and Kohara into India. I brought him down—along the Road which at Elton we had planned together—I the captor, he the prisoner."

Again Violet flinched.

"And where is he now?" she asked in a low voice.

Suddenly Linforth turned round and looked down the steps, across the hall to the glass walls of the restaurant.

"Did he ever come here with you?" he asked. "Did he ever dine with you there amongst the lights and the merry-makers and the music?"

"Yes," she answered.

Linforth laughed, and again there was a note of bitterness in the laughter.

"How long ago it seems! Shere Ali will dine here no more. He is in Burma. He was deported to Burma."

He told her no more than that. There was no need that she should know that Shere Ali, broken-hearted, ruined, and despairing, was drinking himself to death with the riff-raff of Rangoon, or with such of it as would listen to his abuse of the white women and his slanders upon their honesty. The contrast between Shere Ali's fate and the hopes with which he had set out was shocking enough. Yet even in his case so very little had turned the scale. Between the fulfilment of his hopes and the great failure what was there? If he had been sent to Ajmore instead of to England, if he and Linforth had not crossed the Meija to La Grave in the Dauphine, if a necklace of pearls he had offered had not been accepted—very likely at this very moment he might be reigning in Chiltistan, trusted and supported by the Indian Government, a helpful friend gratefully recognized. To Linforth's thinking it was only "just not," with Shere Ali, too.

Linforth saw his companion coming towards him from the restaurant. He held out his hand.

"I have got to go," he said.

"I too," replied Violet. But she detained him. "I want to tell you," she said hurriedly. "Long ago—in Peshawar—do you remember?—I told you there was some one else—a better mate for you than I was. I meant it, Dick, but you wouldn't listen. There is still the same one else. I am going to tell you her name. She has never said a word to me—but—but I am sure. It may sound mean to give her away—but I am not really doing that. I should be very happy, Dick, if it were possible. It's Phyllis Carson. She has never married. She is living with her father at Camberley." And before he could answer she had hurried away.

But Linforth was to see her again that night. For when he had taken his seat in the stalls of the theatre he saw her and her husband in a box. He gathered from the remarks of those about him that her jewels were a regular feature upon the first nights of new plays. He looked at her now and then during the intervals of the acts. A few people entered her box and spoke to her for a little while. Linforth enquired that she had dropped a little out of the world in which he had known her. Yet she was contented. On the whole that seemed certain. She was satisfied with her life. To attend the first productions of plays, to sit in the restaurants, to hear her jewels remarked upon—her life had narrowed sleekly down to that, and she was content. But there had been other possibilities for Violet Oliver.

Linforth walked back from the theatre to his club. He looked into a room and saw an old gentleman dozing alone amongst his newspapers.

"I suppose I shall come to that," he said grimly. "It doesn't look over cheerful as a way of spending the evening of one's days," and he suddenly seized with the temptation to go home and take the first train in the morning for Camberley. He turned the plan over in his mind for a moment, and then swung away from it in self-disgust. He retained a general reverence for women, and to seek marriage without bringing love to light him in the search was not within his capacity.

"That wouldn't be fair," he said to himself, "even if Violet's tale were true." For with his reverence he retained a modesty. The next morning he took the train into Sussex instead, and was welcomed by Sybil Linforth to the house under the Dowss. In the warmth of that welcome, at all events, there was nothing that was "just not."

THE END.

MINERAL ADDITIONS TO GRAIN RATION OF HOGS

By W. H. HICKS
(Supt. Experimental Farm, Agassiz.)

Some valuable information relative to the importance of adding mineral matter to the usual grain rations of hogs has been secured at the Agassiz Experimental Farm during the last two winters.

The mineral mixture used was composed of ground bone meal, 8 pounds; ground charcoal, 5 pounds; ground rock phosphate, 5 pounds; and salt, 3 pounds, at a cost of 2.7 cents per pound. It was fed at the rate of 3 pounds to each 100 pounds of meal.

In order to test this material, a total of 84 pigs were divided into 14 lots of six pigs each. In every ration where the mineral mixture was fed increased gains were secured. This applied not only when the usual trough-feeding method was followed, but also when self feeders were used and when the meal ration was supplemented with cooked potatoes. In one instance there was a profit of $7.85 in favor of the mineral ration.

An increase of six percent of mineral matter proved unsatisfactory and gave similar results to a ration supplemented with two percent of rock phosphate.

When other mineral matter is not available, ordinary wood or coal ashes thrown on the floor gives good results.

Tom: "After all I spent on that girl her father chased me out of the house."

Dick: "Well, you had a run for your money."

Clem Seely says the only way a woman can drive a nail without bustin' her fingers is by holding the hammer in both hands!

Bad Sign

"I'm afraid Tompkins has forgotten that $10 he owes me."

"Why do you think so?"

"He seems always so deucedly glad to see me."

"Why didn't you send your man to mend my electric doorbell, as you promised?"

"He did go, madam; but, as he rang three times and got no answer he concluded that there was nobody at home."

The Logic of Holidays

If we didn't have holidays once in a while we couldn't appreciate the restfulness of hard work.

The Review Job Printing Dept.

We are in a position to handle job work in a satisfactory manner, and will appreciate any orders received. The Review plant is well equipped in every way, being the largest and most up-to-date of any found in a town the size of Sidney. We have added considerable equipment to the Review plant during the past year or so in order to be in a position to successfully handle anything that may be placed in our hands in the commercial job printing line. The Review has had splendid support in this direction, and this fact is very much appreciated. If at any time our customers are not satisfied we hope they will tell us so, and we will endeavor to make it right. We go on the principle that only the very best work is wanted by our many customers, and we endeavor to give them what they want. To those who have printing to be done, we ask them to give us a chance to do it. We feel sure that our prices will be found reasonable, consistent with good workmanship.

WILL THE C.P.R. BE MERELY AN ONLOOKER?

With a boat service from Sidney to the Islands and Vancouver our town should become quite a manufacturing centre. Sidney is now the gateway to Vancouver Island for tourists. There are more people coming and going in automobiles through Sidney than all the other routes to the island put together. Now, we understand, a party is considering the proposition of putting on a good size freight and passenger boat, making Sidney their headquarters. It is a wonder the C.P.R. has not made Sidney the headquarters for the Island Princess long ago, instead of running into Victoria from the Islands. It may be like the ferry business. The C.P.R. apparently had no intention of running into Sidney to cater to the tourists, but just as soon as the Puget Sound Navigation Company started bringing the tourists into Sidney from Anacortes the C.P.R. suddenly takes to the idea and starts a service from Bellingham to Sidney. Will the C.P.R. stand by now and allow an outside concern to start up a business between Sidney and Vancouver, catering to the Islands that lie between? Maybe.

DON'T FORGET THE BIRDS

During the long, rainless spell of dry weather we experience here during the summer months we should not forget that our little feathered friends are very thirsty and are dependent on kind humans for their "drinks" to a great extent. During the hot spell on Saturday afternoon birds were noticed falling to the grounds and dying, apparently for the want of water. There is a whole ocean full of water right at hand but it is of no more use to the birds than ourselves for drinking purposes. We should do what we can to assist the birds getting fresh water during the dry season. The birds, besides filling the air with their sweet notes, help a great deal in keeping the armies of bugs and insects in check. Put out a tin of water where the birds can help themselves.

"MY COUNTRY" PATRIOTISM

Take out of the life of a child the idea of citizenship in the land that gave it birth, and you take out of that life the very heart of its patriotism. To teach a Canadian-born boy or girl that they have no citizenship in the country—that they are citizens of the British empire, mysterious and undefinable—is to take from the child the patriotism akin to "my home," "my country." The absurdity of Canada's position today is without parallel. Statistics prove that there are twice as many Canadian-born men and women in the United States as there are Canadian-born men and women in Canada. They leave Canada to have a citizenship in the land in which they live—in order to feel a proprietorship in "my country."—Enderby Commoner.

And the lever who so tenderly put his hand over hers and taught her how to shift gears is now the husband who is groaning beside her. "Well, you've got three guesses. Take your TIME! There's nobody on this road but YOU, you know!"

Just what a cow finds to eat on a paved highway is more than the average motorist can figure out, but still the cows persist in taking up the centre of the road just for the sake of hearing the horns blow for them to step aside, it would seem.

The old-fashioned couple that used to walk down Lover's Lane now scoots down a paved highway, in a Ford coupe.

With the parking problem what it is, where do doctors get the idea the automobile has taken the nation off its feet?

L. Chaplin says a Ford with balloon tires looks like a little girl wearing big galoshes.

On a much-used highway the proprietor of a filling station invites motorists to "Stop and Gas with Us."

On account of Florida and evolution Ford is at present having to pay for his advertising.

Here and There

According to the official records one hundred and thirty whales have been caught by the Victoria, B.C. whaling fleet so far this season. The sperm whale is the most plentiful this year.

It has been estimated that over one hundred and fifty thousand people attended the Calgary Stampede this year. A historical pageant more than five miles long was the opening feature of the jubilee.

With an estimated attendance of five thousand each, twenty conventions have been booked to take place in Montreal for August, September and October, according to figures from the Tourist and Convention Bureau of that city.

It is expected that when Hon. Honore Mercier, Minister of Lands and Forests, returns to Canada, a thorough organization of the aviation branch of the Quebec Lands and Forests Department will take place. It is reported that the Province is to purchase several more hydroplanes, to be used for forestry research work, as well as for combating forest fires and other work.

Church dignitaries, statesmen and thousands of laymen congregated in ancient Quebec to be present at the wonderfully impressive ceremonies attendant upon the burial of the late Cardinal Begin. The Basilica, which has only recently been reconstructed and opened to the public, presented a scene of colorful beauty and majestic dignity while the profoundly sorrowful services were being recited.

At this year's Cross-country Ride and Pow-wow of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies it is expected that approximately one hundred riders will cover a new trail which extends from Marble Canyon on the Banff-Windermere Road over the Wolverine Plateau and past Lake O'Hara to Hector, while between 250 and 300 are expected at the Pow-wow near the Wapta Bungalow Camp. While out west Field Marshal Earl Haig signed on as a member of the Trail Riders.

On the occasion of the departure from England of a party of one hundred school-teachers on board the "Empress of Scotland" to visit Canada and study educational methods here, His Majesty the King sent the following message to the International Education League: "His Majesty congratulates the League upon the happy conception of the undertaking which will give opportunities to study the educational system in Canada and to gain an insight into her history, development and general resources."

That 69,000 harvesters would be required to handle this year's crop, of which the East would be expected to supply 50,000, was the estimate arrived at last week at a conference of various governments held in the Canadian Pacific offices at Winnipeg. In the meantime the Canadian Pacific Railway has taken all necessary steps to transport the army of harvesters. Their colonist cars and special equipment has been overhauled and the company is now fully prepared for its annual rush of harvesters.

George Morris Bosworth, Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, who died in London, England, on the morning of July 26th, from septic poisoning following an operation for appendicitis, was with the company almost from its inception. He was 68 years old when he died, joined the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1882 and was head of the steamship service for nearly seven years. When informed of Mr. Bosworth's death, E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairman and president of the company, stated that in his opinion Mr. Bosworth had had no equal in the country as a manager of railway traffic and added that "the company deeply regrets the passing of another of the old guard, whose ability and effort so greatly contributed to the company's success."

STRANGER THAN FICTION

What novelist ever spun a yarn like this from the news: A motorist speeding by a pond in Washington state hears a despairing cry for help. Hastily parking his car, the motorist plunges into the pond and rescues an aged man from drowning. The aged man thanked his rescuer and started down the road toward the nearest town. The motorist stopped on the gas and shed down the road. Around a turn a man staggered from the roadside, fell in front of the speeding car and was killed. The victim was the aged man whom the motorist had rescued from the pond but a few moments before. Fate in the greatest master of irony.

NOTES BY THE WAY

By OBSERVER

Many of our roads are showing the effects of the summer's auto travel. I refer to the deposits of waste paper, bottles, bottle covers, etc. It seems an anomaly that many people who take pride in the cleanliness and neatness of their own homes and property, are the worst sinners when they travel. It may be thoughtlessness, but it would be better to keep waste paper, etc., in the car, and burn it upon arrival home than to disfigure our roads with it. Try, Mr. and Mrs. Autoist, to help us keep the roads in the country neat.

The people of North Saanich seem pleased with the conduct of the Superior School during the past year. Renewed supplies were voted at their last meeting, and it is expected that the Superior School will be well attended during the coming term, both by children from North Saanich and from surrounding school sections. If the Superior School proves a success a High School Centre may be established in this school district during the coming year, which will be a great convenience to all the Island districts.

The people of North Saanich have established a Social Club under the name of the North Saanich Social Club. While making provisions for the amusement of their members and residents of that district, it is the aim of the club to eventually construct a building suitable for a community centre, also to be used as a gymnasium for the school children, as well as those of larger growth. A very laudable ideal to work for.

The campaign for the cancellation of the Inheritance Tax is still gaining ground. Many, who a short time ago, were against this campaign, are now converted, and are working hard for it. In the opinion of many the cancellation of this tax will be the best thing that has happened in this province for many years. The only opposition so far has been from those vitally interested in the collection of the tax.

Judging from the crowds using the new bath houses erected by the Sidney Board of Trade at the Ferry Landing, this building fills a long felt want. Many people from outside of the district have recently made use of it.

Many inquiries for houses and small holdings have recently been made by those desiring to rent same. Many parcels of land now idle, if houses were built on them, could be rented, in many cases with the option to purchase.

The pedlar nuisance still continues. The latest one is the man who has a few suit lengths of dress goods to sell. These suit lengths, of course, were brought by him from the Old Country, and he desires to sell them at a bargain (?).

Much damage has been done lately by the wandering dog to our sheep raisers. Quite a number of sheep and lambs have been killed. The man or woman who keeps a good dog had better keep him under cover during the nights, as he may join the wanderers and get into trouble.

Quite a success has been made this year by many of our gardeners in raising beans. It might be well to investigate this branch of agriculture, to see if sufficient might be raised in this district to enable our local cannery to handle them.

SUBJECTION OF WEEDS

In a statement on "Effective Methods of Controlling Weeds," Mr. E. S. Hopkins, Dominion Field Husbandman, brings out three salient and important points. The first is that the most effective method of controlling weeds is thorough and frequent cultivation of the land. The second is that the basic principle in killing weeds which have underground rootstalks is to prevent their sending up top or above-ground growth, and the third, the longer the delay in eradicating the weeds the greater the amount of work that will eventually be necessitated. One other point made by Mr. Hopkins in giving definite advice as to the subjection of couch grass, mustard and other weeds, that it is important to use at all times clean seed grain, clover and grass seed.

OPENS RADIO STATION

SIR HENRY W. THORNTON, K.B.E.
President and Chairman of the Board of Directors, Canadian National Railways

On Tuesday evening Sir Henry Thornton opened the new C.N.R. radio station in Vancouver, known as CNRV. In declaring the new station open, Sir Henry, who was introduced to his radio audience by the Mayor of Vancouver, said that this completed the chain of broadcasting stations owned or operated by the Canadian National system in Canada, stretching from Moncton, N.B., on the Atlantic coast, to Vancouver on the Pacific coast. These stations had been instrumental in placing before the people of both Canada and the United States, facts concerning Canada and the Canadian National Railways which were of mutual benefit.

RESULTS JUSTIFY POLICY

The Company's radio policy had been more than justified, Sir Henry declared, by the tens of thousands of letters, telegrams and other messages which the Company received from Canada, United States and other countries, and a considerable amount of revenue traffic which the Company now received could be traced as at least partly due to the dissemination of information by radio.

The maintenance of a friendly spirit between officers and employees of the road, made possible by this newest science of communication, was also of tremendous benefit to the morale of the organization and helped to promote a splendid esprit de corps.

The new station, which broadcasts on a wave length of 291 meters, will go on the air regularly hereafter at 7.30 on Tuesday evening and 8 o'clock on Friday evenings.

Little Girl: "Mrs. Brown, ma wants to know if she could borrow a dozen eggs. She wants to put 'em under a hen."

Neighbor: "So you've got a hen sitting, have you? I didn't know you kept hens."

Little Girl: "No, ma'am, we don't, but Mrs. Smith's going to lend us a hen's that's going to sit, and ma thought if you'd lend us some eggs we'd find a nest ourselves."

IRISH ARITHMETIC

"Av yo plaze, sorr, O'll have me month's wages according to agramment."

"What's that?" said his employer.

"You haven't been with us thirty days."

"O'l came on the twentieth av laist month."

"I know you did, but—"

"An' isn't this the fifth av the month? An' don't twinty an' tin make thirty?"

SILENCED AT LAST

Uncle John was an ardent supporter of the local English football club. As a respected follower of the team he had his own private niche. Aunt Martha, long puzzled at his regular absences from home Saturday afternoons, decided to investigate.

On the following Saturday Uncle John did not turn up in the stand alone. Aunt Martha was with him. "John," she asked, soon after the game started, "what are those eleven fools in white doing?"

"They are trying to put that bit of leather between those two posts there, my dear," he replied.

There was a short silence.

"And what are those eleven other fools in red doing?" was her next question.

"They are trying to prevent the other fellows from putting the ball between the posts, my dear."

Another silence.

"And what are those other 20,000 fools doing?" was her next question.

"They are all enjoying them selves, except one, dear."

SHORE ACRES—The ideal summer vacation home, five minutes from the Sidney wharf. High-class service.—Adv.

The Misses Margaret and Patty Simister left on Monday on the "Maquina" for a trip up the west coast of the Island.

Messrs. Walter Gidden, Chas. Leonard and Gerald Davis have gone to the prairie to take part in the harvesting and threshing operations.

Mr. A. Critchley has recently had his car repainted and a new sign, H. M. Rural Mail, in red, conspicuously showing on both the front and rear.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. R. McKay, Third St., on the birth of a son on Saturday, Aug. 1, at Mrs. Walker's nursing home, Saanichton.

MERCHANTS' SPECIAL LUNCH, at the Sidney Hotel, 50c.—Adv.

Colin McKenzie, of the C.F.A., formerly of Sidney, attended the summer training at Saree Camp, Calgary. Colin passed on recommendation into third year work at the Vancouver Technical School.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Van Sant and daughter visited Sidney last week. Mr. Van Sant will be remembered as the superintendent of the old V. & S. railway. He was much impressed with the prosperous appearance of the district. He is now freight superintendent at Tacoma.

Mr. and Mrs. William Menzies of Du Bois, Pa., visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Burton during the week-end, while on a tour of the West. While here they took in the Crystal Garden, Ditchart's Gardens and other interesting points. They left on Monday's boat for Vancouver and will travel via C.P.R. to Chicago.

STOP OVER NIGHT at the Sidney Hotel for rest, comfort and a good breakfast.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Vigellus and party of Seattle, spent the week-end in Sidney as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Roberts. They arrived on their yacht "Sovereign." After cruising the islands they returned to Seattle on Tuesday. They were so delighted with the scenery of the surrounding islands that they have planned to take a further cruise in the near future.

MAYNE ISLAND

Mrs. Blair has as guests this week Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien and Miss Margaret O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are on the island again for a holiday. They are staying at their cottage and expect to stay on for about a month.

The Capt. J. A. Point Comfort this week was given by Mrs. Houlgate. There were not so many out as usual owing to the great heat and the tournament being over.

Captain and Mrs. Houlgate had a birthday party on the beach on Sunday afternoon, there were friends from Saturna and Mayne, and they all enjoyed the lovely bathing picnic.

The visitors at Grandview Lodge this week-end were: E. J. Day, Jerry Goldburg, W. M. Everall, Miss Everall, Grace J. May, Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder and Miss Schroeder, Mrs. and Miss Bennett.

There was a very good concert held at Mayne Island Hall on Wednesday, given by Miss Ida New, Mrs. C. Warn and Mr. Drury Pryce from Victoria. The hall unfortunately was not full but those who were there certainly enjoyed the music.

People are beginning to send in their entries for the exhibition at Mayne on the 19th and it is to be hoped that many more will be received soon, so as to insure the event being a success. We need everybody's help to do this and hope all will put in what they can.

GALLANO

Mr. and Mrs. J. Page left for Victoria on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Twiss have left for Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thornley and four daughters, of Santa Barbara, are guests of Mrs. New.

The many friends for miles round will tomorrow (Aug. 14) be congratulating Mr. Henry Georgeson on his 90th birthday.

Captain and Mrs. Marsden Peter and baby are guests at Cain's House. Miss Rhoda Chattel is also guest of Mrs. Marsden.

The many friends of Commander Eustace Maude and his family will be delighted to welcome him home after his eventful voyage.

Mrs. Bray, Victoria, is a guest of the Farm-House Inn, also Mrs. and Miss Loggin, Mr. Griffiths and Miss Winifred Morton (England).

Arrivals at Gossip: Mr. and Mrs. Wendy Meredith, Mrs. Moffat and family (Burnaby Lake), Mr. and Mrs. Templeton, Mrs. Malcolm (Essondale).

FULFORD HARBOUR

Mrs. Reid and son John paid a visit to Victoria last week.

Mr. Phillips is staying at the White House for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Edwards is spending a few weeks with Mrs. Reid at Burgoyne Valley.

Mrs. Fielding gave a jolly dance to a few of her friends on Saturday, Aug. 4.

Mrs. Harrison, from Victoria, is a guest of Col. and Mrs. Bryant this week.

The hall committee meeting was held at the White House on Friday night, Aug. 7.

Mrs. Creaser and two little daughters, Jane and Meredith, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jackson.

Mrs. Margison is spending the summer holidays with her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Ruckle, of Beaver Point.

A party of tourists from California camped for a night or two at Fulford before climbing Mount Tuam last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pownall, from Sidney, brought a picnic party over to Fulford last week and spent the day on the beach near Isabella Point.

The members of the Lyonesse Tennis Club spent the day at "Lyonesse Camp" on Sunday, Aug. 9. Tea and soft drinks were served at the pavilion.

The boat thing you can take, when you go for a picnic on the beaches is a fly-swatter to keep the wasps away. It is splendid practice for tennis players also.

Mr. Bob Pollock took a picnic party in his launch "Aristo" to Gannan Narrows on Monday, Aug. 10. A number of salmon and grilse were caught by those who went fishing.

Mr. Douglas Lasseter had the misfortune to get his leg crushed between two logs while working in the logging camp at Beaver Point. His friends wish him a speedy recovery and better luck next time.

Most of the young men around here have left to go harvesting on the prairie. Amongst those who have gone are Messrs. Fred Morris, Jimmy Akerman, Chester Kay, Tommy Isherwood, Verner Douglas, Harry Atkinson and Jack Harrison. Mr. Reid has also left for the prairie to pay a visit to his brother.

SATURNA

Mrs. E. Higgs has gone to Victoria for a 10-day visit.

After a short holiday on Saturna, Mrs. Romans and her guest have returned to Vancouver.

Mr. Defty, of Saturna, has gone to England for a few months' visit, returning in the early autumn.

Mr. A. Stretton is spending a few days with Major and Mrs. W. U. Pender at their camp on South Pender Island.

Major Rawson and son Victor have returned to Victoria after a two weeks' visit on the island with the Rev. H. Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Payne, accompanied by Mr. Harold Payne, of Sidney, have gone "North" for a cruise in their yacht "Saturna."

Saturna is justly proud of one of her sons, "Billy" Defty, who saved the lives of two young cadets whose canoe overturned just near the breakwater at Victoria.

Mrs. Rogers, accompanied by her daughter Molly and Master Graeme Macfadyen, arrived from Orcas Island on Wednesday via Sidney and thence to Saturna in Mr. Burnet's launch.

Numerous friends have called up Saturna to ask if we were having forest fires. We take this means of telling those interested that there have been no fires on Saturna and we hope there will be none. Dense clouds of smoke have been hanging over the island in the past week, which naturally lead the distant observers to imagine we were being buried in flames.

Mr. Harry Loosmore is spending a few weeks' holiday with his family on Saturna. We are sorry to have to report that young "Bobbie" Loosmore fell from a boat into shallow water and broke one bone in his right arm. He is recovering quickly. This is the second broken arm on Saturna this summer and let us hope there will not have to be a third to dispel the "evil" charm.

DEEP COVE

Mrs. Cammarn, of Seattle, was a week-end visitor to Deep Cove.

Mr. Lamont, of Victoria, spent the week-end at his summer home at Deep Cove.

Mrs. Quartermaine, of Deep Cove, left on Tuesday for an extended visit to Anacortes.

Mr. and Mrs. McIbride and Mr. and Mrs. Martin, who have been holidaying at the Chalet Hotel, have returned to their home in Seattle.

A flannel dance will be held in the Deep Cove Social Club hall on Friday, Aug. 14. Good music has been obtained for the dancing, which is from 9 to 1.

PENDER ISLAND

Mrs. J. P. Westman and Miss Jean Westman, of Victoria, are holidaying at "Roesland," Otter Bay.

Another open-air dance was held last week at Simpson's, Otter Bay, and much enjoyed by those who attended.

Guests at Simpson's last week included Mrs. Thomas and family, Mrs. Headley and daughter, and Mrs. Middleton and daughter, of Victoria.

Miss Margaret Shiell, of Vancouver, who was formerly teacher here, is visiting with friends at Port Washington, the guest of Mrs. J. Clague.

Mrs. John Allan, of Victoria, and her friend, Miss Hall, of Glasgow, Scotland, spent a few days on the island last week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Davidson.

Notices are out calling for tenders for the alterations to be made on the school building, tenders to close on Friday, the 14th. The work is to be completed by Sept. 8th, in time for the re-opening of school.

SCHOOL WHEEZES

A Milwaukie grade school's examination papers exhibit the following "wheezes":—

"Tennyson wrote in Memorandum."

"Gender shows whether a man is masculine, feminine, or neuter."

"Louis XVI. was guillotined during the French revolution."

"In India a man out of a cask may not marry a woman out of another cask."

"Gravitation is that which if there were none we should all fly away."

"A cuckoo never lays its own eggs."
